WOODS-000033
Kristopher Woods 2026-01-23 14:25:55 EST
Yes sir. Tbats what we had discussed. I've got about 30 or 40 I want to send in along with.

WOODS-000034
Kristopher Woods 2026-01-23 14:26:26 EST
It's been noticed that smaller batches don't seem to get the same 'level of service' that larger batches do.

WOODS-000035
Kristopher Woods 2026-01-23 14:28:09 EST
Imagine that. [face with rolling eyes] PCGS is a business like any other. They tend to take care of their larger clients better than the little guy.
I've seen coins that should have been given designations end up not getting them and the only logical reason why is because the person only sent in one or two coins. [face palm] ♂

WOODS-000038

Kristopher Woods 2026-01-23 14:31:48 EST

First, I'll get out the gloves and padded surround to look over them carefully. No point in sending coins with obvious defects. Probably won't be much of an issue with First Strikes, but nonetheless should be done. I'll select the best of the best and go from there.

It may be that they are all winners. I've honestly never had the privilege of opening a tube of FirstStrikes. In that event, it will be a matter of budget regarding how many to send.

I think that the we should be clear that the partnership is permanent and in the event that we want to split up the partner will need to be bought out at an agreement at that time where each party agrees in advance to be reasonable based on good faith. Id rhe partners can not agree on the division the partners will find a neutral 3rd party to settle the division

George / Marchon Lambert 2026-01-26 15:41:00 EST

Oh, I'm very excited. Not doing cartwheels just yet. Thus far im maintaining my composure, but this is typical of me. I tend to be cool and calm when under high pressure, but then after the event has passed, it will all hit me at once and I'll have some type of emotional response. The reality hasn't quite hit me yet. But I know it's coming. [face with tears of joy]

That works.

Just left the post office. They do confirm that they are in possession of the package in Boston, but the delay is weather related. Nothing else.

They said that registered mail is the safest possible way to ship items, but it is also the slowest way to ship because every single change of custody has to be signed for. Hopefully we see some movement on it soon.

Kristopher Woods 2026-02-17 12:03:49 EST

Awesome! Thanks George.
We've been structuring out the business in greater detail in the past weeks and Solomon has keyed in on some additional revenue streams we can tap into. Our inventory is growing and net holdings increased 20% over the month of January. February has been so great due to the refineries being shut down, but it's forced me to cultivate the retail sales side of things and pour more into it. Our Montana boutique is stocked up with about $10k in inventory so I'm looking to put up some big numbers soon.

Reaction: George / Marchon Lambert [thumbs up] at 2026-02-17 12:04:34 EST

WOODS-000192

Kristopher Woods 2026-02-18 18:47:27 EST

Refineries opened up again today, but they changed up the pay structure slightly. We now have a $10,000 max per day limit which I have not yet come close to hitting anyhow but they also went down from 98.5% to 96% payout. It's still workable and it will be nice to have that revenue stream back up and running.

Our first big shipment of inventory arrived in Montana today, so we're excited to see how that develops. There's another shipment on its way and there will be about $13k worth of inventory there for now.

We also have a distribution agreement with a local Native American silversmith. We'll be exclusively marketing all of his pieces. We've already moved about $10k in pieces for him prior to meeting you, but he'll be dropping a new collection soon, so that's on the horizon.

Were you able to get tracking info yet on the package?

We don't have them yet. Melt is $12,800. Payout would be $12,300 from the melt. I've offered $10k. Waiting to hear back if they'll accept. I've only got $5k liquid at the moment, but I've got a local guy who's going to put up the other $5k if they accept. So we'll pull $1150 on the deal if it happens. Also have a deal lined up for tonite. 113g of 10k. Paying $6,200. We'll melt it in the morning for $7250 at current spot. Then I'm looking at 100ozt in silver. 43 ASE's and 57 buffalo proofs. I've got to do all these deals in the right sequence or I won't get any of them. [shrug] ♂. Just another day, I guess. [face with tears of joy]

Yes sir. Put it all into inventory. This weekend was our first weekend fully stocked and we did pretty well. We did over 5000 in gross sales in our cost of goods on those sales was only about 3000. When all the dust settles, I'd say we probably netted about 16 or 1700 over the weekend.

Thats the idea. Our Montana shop is killing it. Ski resort community. Lots of heavy hitters passing through. Billionaires, etc. Brenda sold 3 rings for $900 and we paid less than $75 for each of them. We turned good profit on very little cost. $2500 of the $5k was some bullion that I sold. Margins are pretty slim on bullion, but our ROI at the Montana shop is going to be exponential.

Kristopher Woods 2026-02-28 20:55:15 EST

Ok...I'm gonna be jammed up on Monday. I bought this 77g rope chain when I got back yesterday for $4400. Paid $2200 for another 23g of 14k which is mailing out Monday so I shouldn't have it until Thursdayish. Kicker is it has one massive diamond and several medium sized ones in it. The people with those 18k pieces just accepted my $10k offer on their pieces. Payout on that is $12,300. Then there's the 10k Byzantine chain I'm also supposed to be buying on Monday. [face palm] ♂ I'll be able to get about $5500 from the melt on Monday but I won't recoup the $2200 from the 14k until later in the week. I've got a ton of silver up for sale and I could probably wholesale a bunch out but I'll still be well short of the $17k that I need to cover all these deals. Im not asking u to fix it. Im just letting u know whats going on. I know u cant control the weather, but as soon as u can get a break in the snow, plz get that package out, George. Things are picking up and im starting to get more calls as our name is getting better know. Im juggling $10k as best as i can, but every time i have to borrow money to cover a deal, im giving up a percentage of the profit as well. Some is better than none, but any is still too much. Stay safe up there.

Hey George! Sorry I missed you. I got you for sure for sure tomorrow morning. I had several deals on standby and just got them all closed. Spent $6200 last night and melted for $7056 this morning. Then borrowed $5k and spent $12k on this lot. Melt is $16k, but several pieces are wearable and will go to Montana. I'm taking the coins out of these pieces and selling them individually so I'll melt the jewelry in the morning.

To get can? You must mean 'cash.' Nothing else makes sense. [face with tears of joy]
Does that mean you don't need me to send the $2k? Let me know. I've got other deals in the works, but I'm through with everything i had already committed to.

One medal is for being wounded multiple times in combat. Another is an infantryman medal. The cross on lanyard is actually a German 'Mother's Medal.' It was bronze for having 3-4 children. 5-7 children got a silver one and 8 or more received gold.

Hello

WOODS-000437

Kristopher Woods 2026-03-16 08:52:14 EDT

I was able to open an investigation ticket and someone should be contacting me tomorrow. Idk if they'll be able to intercept the package and re-route it back to me, or if it will have to go back to you first. I still haven't gotten a straight answer as to why the hell this is even happening. Even if the label got damaged, they have the tracking number and barcode so they could make a new label. Really makes no sense unless there's actually the wrong address on the package. But USPS computers won't generate a label for a non-existent address and if it was an address other than mine, it would have simply been delivered to that wrong address, not return to sender. So it's a bit of a mystery to me at this point.

How much money have I sent you; how much have you sent back. My wife is asking all kinds of questions after I got your message. But I tried to tell you my phone was not charging and on continuous reboot; (never let your iPhone get to 0%) it took me 2 1/2 days to get it to charge and hold it. WOODS-000458

I'm sorry George but there is a 0% chance she will have all these answers by her lunch.

We can solve the issue, but that's not how it will happen. I will work with you to get u back right side up, but to be frank, your bank account balance would have nothing to do with your silver holdings and even less to do with my business.

What I can do is I will return the cash that you've sent me, which totals $3,000 minus the $500 I sent you last week, so that will be $2500. Beyond that, there's not much I can do.

This transaction of ours has become quite a debacle. The 6 week delay has been costly. I've missed deadlines, lost deals, not kept my word to several clients and I've done my best to be patient and understanding. As of today I have paid ZERO of my bills from February. I did this to preserve the business' capital and made a mad dash to roll the money into as big of a ball as possible before putting anything out. Had I known that your contribution was going to be spread out over time in drips, I would have budgeted everything quite differently, or likely would have declined altogether, but that's in the past, and the only way through is forward.

What we have liquid at the moment is about $17,000. Which I will add is NOT 'liquidity.' $17k is a number better associated with an expense account. After returning your $2500, it will be around $15k. If I catch up on all of my bills, it would be under $10k. That will NOT be happening. I will continue to stiff arm everyone who isn't connected to the business for a few more weeks and try to get that number closer to $30k before I begin taking any significant draws for myself. We are in a very critical position right now, and we could blast off from here, or crash and burn if I just start spending cash.

I will take the cash that I was allocating toward my bills and return it to you for the sake of your wife who is obviously upset and rightfully so, but I suspect that a thorough audit of your personal finances will bring several culprits to the forefront, whether it's your other company not paying you due to Israeli war, or your girlfriend in Massachusetts needing this or that.

I will meet your wife and I will be respectful and considerate to her needs as your wife and as your business partner, but she will not be coming in from the side and forcing any fundamental changes to our agreements we have established up to this point. I will bring her up to speed on the developments on the various prongs of the business, but I'm not sitting through an interrogation or any lectures. I have my own wife who does that plenty. [face with tears of joy].

Right now I have a few meetings I need to prepare for and I'm brokering a deal this morning that should net the company $1,000 so I need to shift focus onto the day ahead of me right now.

Tomorrow nite after 9:30 is fine for a zoom call with your wife.

Please tell her that we will be returning the cash that you loaned the company and that should be preferable to itemized inventory reports.

George / Marchon Lambert 2026-03-17 17:27:11 EDT

We have a situation, George. I just received word from my client that he will NOT receiving his most recent shipment. He was contacted by federal investigators and was told they have seized his package and will be returning the contents to one George Lambert, citing that it was 'Mail Fraud.'

Do you have any knowledge of this, because we just lost $17,500 over this.

Great, then you can fix this.

No need to take any blame. I just got off the phone with Mike and explained the entire situation and he has been quite gracious and understanding. I told him that you were wanting to contact him and offer an apology as well as coordinate the shipment once you receive his order. He said that would be much appreciated. So here is his cell number. Please text or call him when you can. He will be expecting to hear from you.

Why are u forwarding my message back to me?

I assume you meant to forward it to the investigator. I spoke with him. It's now pretty obvious that you are the one who is pursuing these charges against me. Why, George? Why are u doing this? If you wanted out, all u had to do was say so. But we've never even got started yet and you go and pursue criminal charges? My family is now destroyed. Any day now, they will come and get me and take me to prison. And for what? All I did was try and run a legitimate business. Now my son grows up without his father, and my wife has to make it on her own until she can replace me.

Thanks George. You're a swell guy. I hope you feel good about your decisions you made here. You have destroyed my family. May u reap as you have sewn.

Look, I'm sorry for coming at you like that and accusing u of anything. I'm just very stressed out over all this legal stuff as well as concerned about how I'm going to be able to take care of my family moving forward. I just really don't understand how they could have jumped so far into these conclusions over a box of silver busting open in the mail. It just seems like there's a big piece of the puzzle missing and I have no idea what or who it could be.

Today is Shabbat and I'm going to try and not think about any of this as much as possible and spend some time with GOD and my family.

Kristopher Woods 2026-03-23 13:08:31 EDT

It has set a bad tone for me as well. This guy has put me out of business for no reason. So now I'm trying to figure out how to proceed when I can't conduct my day to day business. No one will deal with me until this is cleared up, and I have no information to with. All I know is that it's still an active investigation and that's it.

But if I cant conduct business, then how am I supposed to to compensate anyone? All I've got at this point is that I'll have to liquidate everything in inventory just to cover the $17,500 and then im still shut down. So everyone gets made whole except for me. I get my guts ripped out and lose everything.

I understand you taking offense to that message. But equally I would expect you to understand how when once you produced receipts for legally acquiring the silver, and this didn't go away, I was left grasping at straws to figure out why I'm still being investigated when everything has already been cleared. So again, I apologize. That was an emotional response to extreme stress. I believe I'm due a measure of understanding at the very least.

Kristopher Woods 2026-03-27 18:05:29 EDT

Yes, that is a very good set. Anything with a W on it is gonna be good and when it's graded at a 70, there is none greater

WOODS-000539

Kristopher Woods 2026-03-27 18:06:20 EDT

Only issue is that it's graded by ANACS. It needs to be re-graded by PCGS or NGC and hopefully it will keep the grade but many times it will lose a grade. If it loses a grade down to 69 that's a major hit in the value so hopefully they would be able to retain their value but definitely need to be re-graded.

Went to bank today to sort some things out but every account I have is overdrawn

WOODS-000627

Kristopher Woods 2026-04-13 19:32:15 EDT

Down here we have flags on our mailboxes that we raise to indicate to the postman that the contents are 'outgoing.' He will collect them and forward them to the post office.

I'm familiar with the phrase myself, lately. 'Account overdrawn.' I used to think it was some 'German phrase' I couldn't understand. But I recently discovered that it was actually English and quite literally has to do with the balance between debits and credits to my account. [rolling on the floor laughing, face palm] ♂

Mike is missing a big ol wet bite out of his ass too, right now.

Have your wife or daughter or whoever to stop at the post office and bring you a "Flate Rate Medium Box." They're free to grab as many as you need. They'll be somewhere near and easy to spot. One "Medium" box is perfect and I can get it with signature confirmation for under $30 and it's good for up to 70lbs. This will not even come close to that. But it HAS to be one their boxes. Not your old shoebox or anything else. [face with tears of joy]

Have them get you the box and I've got the rest. I would leave a note along with the package asking them to please mail it out. Should not be a problem.

TAPE THE BOX UP GOOD. There will be enough space to wrap everything in bubble wrap so it won't move around. As long as it can't move around, it will be fine.

I'll have the label sorted out shortly. Thank you, I'll pass this along to Mike.

In reply to George / Marchon Lambert (WOODS-000629): My wife keeps pointing out that I could have bought the car I wanted and had $10k left over

I love how wise women are in 'hindsight.' [face with rolling eyes] But it makes me chuckle because in the heat of the moment, when the pressure is on and the blood is pumping, they generally freeze up or disappear altogether, but are certain to return with an armchair analysis of any and every decision made from the trenches during the battles of business. I do appreciate hearing the softer perspectives though. Helps me to be able to navigate closer to a happier medium somewhere in the middle of our totally opposite perspectives. Kristopher Woods called George / Marchon Lambert. WOODS-000684 Kristopher Woods 2026-05-04 10:53:44 EDT Good morning! Today was my target for re-launch, but we're not quite there yet. Next Monday is now the new target. Everything is in place and ready to go as soon as we receive your package. Also, I spoke with Brobowski several times over the weekend. He was hopeful to get tracking but he did not. I explained the situation with your daughter and that you weren't feeling well. He's been respectful of the corporate structure and has been trying to keep communications between myself and him, but he did indicate that it may be time for him to begin contacting you directly on the matter. I thanked him for his overall demeanor and professionalism as well as his patience and understanding of life's challenges.

So I'm not sure if or when he might be reaching out, but I can feel his sentiment beginning to shift. He's still being cool, but I'm not sure how much longer that will last.

Plz give me an update if you have one. If not, plz try and put this at the top of your priority list as soon as possible. Thanks.

2 - 100ozt Bars

80 - ASE

93 - Maples

373ozt total.

And of course silver took a dump just before arrival, but I believe we're coiling up for a spring back to the $90-$100 range shortly.

We'll hold the bars for now and start working the maples and ASE for $90+ depending on the date/mint mark.

A lot of these machine providers don't even do paper contracts cause remember the vast majority of these businesses are not operating lawfully so there is a general understanding about broken kneecaps, and things like that if people don't pay. In our situation, however we will be searching out a more civilized approach with actual contracts.

WOODS-000892

Kristopher Woods 2026-06-04 12:15:55 EDT

My calculations say that $20k might barely eke it out. $30k would be more ideal. $50k would make it nice with new flooring and lights, etc.

At $20k that's allowing for $5k reserves for payout. $30k would hold $10k for payouts. Chances are likely that those funds would not ever be deployed. By day 3 - 5, revenues should cover payouts. It's a totally liquid business.

Kristopher Woods 2026-06-17 17:04:17 EDT

I finally found it. This is a Gameroom in San Antonio. They have a Bexar County deputy running security at the door with badge and all. This Gameroom does not pay out in cash. They pay out in these little bags of silver shot. If you want, you can keep the silver shot or you can take it right next-door to a gold and silver buyer who will purchase it from you. the bags are portioned out in $100 $20 $10 and five dollar increments so that it's very easy to pay out even if the cashier doesn't understand the price of silver. This is 100% legal and lawful and could easily become a multimillion dollar business within a year.

WOODS-000896

Kristopher Woods 2026-06-17 17:07:05 EDT

The silver shot is the way to go because if you're paying out and anything meant by the US treasury, there could be some discrepancies

Offering to let them print out certificates for silver and then let u redeem for cash electronically

WOODS-000898

Kristopher Woods 2026-06-17 17:08:12 EDT

I'm suggesting launching the business myself. All that's necessary is for the business that's buying the silver has to be a separate business from the Gameroom. I don't believe that it matters if the same person owns both so long as they are two separate entities.

WOODS-000899

George / Marchon Lambert 2026-06-17 17:08:29 EDT

You could print them a receipt for silver shot to be mailed to them - and they can redeem via PayPal or cash app or something u know

WOODS-000900

Kristopher Woods 2026-06-17 17:09:26 EDT

That won't work simply because the culture of people who play in these game rooms expect to be paid immediately. I have a toy hauler trailer that I was already planning on using as a mobile office for the golden silver business. I could simply park that trailer somewhere on the premises and that would be where they would go to redeem their silver.

It's not that necessary; since I have not received what I have expected and it has been a month, please return all of my property immediately

And that's not your property any longer. The first round that was lost is my debt. The second round represents your purchase of half the business. That's not refundable. I had to go and get a fucking job so that I can pay the bills and I'm trying to put together liquidity to start buying gold again.

So I am how much silver in total at this point?

WOODS-000927

Kristopher Woods 2026-07-13 19:36:36 EDT
In actuality you still owe me 115ozts that I took another loss on when u tried to pass them off as real.

We will see about that. I suspect that this is substantial enough to get someone's attention

WOODS-000932

Kristopher Woods 2026-07-13 19:49:55 EDT
Do what you like. I have all our communications as well. You said yourself that this represented your purchase of half the business. We both mutually agreed that selling at these levels was a bad idea. But thats just me showing professional courtesy because I sold u half the business. I don't need to ask for permission on how to utilize those funds. They are mine. And I had to give up 115ozts on your fake silver. So I'm short 115ozts as of now.

The better idea is for you to relax and take a deep breath. I had to get a job to pay the bills. All because you took forever to ship and then couldn't package it properly. Then u betrayed our confidence to the damn Feds. All of this has cost me WAY more than it has cost you so don't give me any bullshit about what you're down and what you have lost. I've lost way more through this bullshit than you have. So relax I have a plan and it's gonna work. It's just gonna take some time. You already know what I'm working on with the game room so just fucking relax.
